Dear Valued Tedia Customer,

Attached is a copy of our new label with some slight modifications since the previous notification. The following changes have been incorporated into this label:

1. The ISO logo has been removed
2. The website, 1-800 telephone number, and 24 hour Emergency contact information have been added
3. A recommended retest date will be shown on the label.

Please let us know if you have any questions or concerns regarding these changes.

Tedia Manufacturing Change Notification

Tedia executes customer notification for certain process changes in our products. Changes in existing specifications, production methods, testing methods, packaging, or raw material sources generate formal customer notification. For more information on Tedia's procedures for change notification, or for information on auditing Tedia's products or processes, contact Tedia Quality Management Systems.
